GETTING HERE

Take a flight to Berau or Tarakan. Our speedboat will be waiting to ferry you to our Resort. The boat journey takes 2 to 3 hours. You will arrive at the resort late in the afternoon.

Maratua Island is a large atoll located in East Kalimantan, Indonesia. Shaped like a horseshoe, the island is approximately 45km from tip to tip. There are several local villages on the island, where tourism and fishing are the common livelihood.

Maratua Seaview Resort is strategically located at the south of the island, where access to the surrounding dive sites and neighbouring Kakaban and Sangalaki is exceedingly convenient.

Kakaban

Sanctuary for stingless jellyfish. Inland lake houses three jellyfish types:
Aurelia aurita (moon jellyfish)
Mastigias papua (spotted jellyfish)
Tripedalia cystophora (box jellyfish).

Rich coral reefs and steep wall dives attract large marine life like barracuda, jackfish, and various shark species including whitetip, blacktip, grey reef, thresher, and leopard sharks.

Sangalaki

Indonesia's prime green sea turtle nesting site.
Nightly nesting ritual: mother turtles dig nests, lay eggs for 3-4 hours.
Daily hatchlings emerge.

Dive sites nearby ideal for manta ray sightings.
